The Abenague Machine works of Westwater have filed a petition in bankruptcy. They have liabilities of $52,793.32 and assets of $32,000. They are manufacturers of gas engines and wood sawing machines.

A friend of mine, a retail druggist of Tampa, Fla., writes by way, is the largest cigar manufacturing city in the world, conceived the idea that druggists ought to own their own cigar factory, and after some effort he succeeded in organizing a company. I joined and shortly after they began manufacturing cigars. I stocked some of the brands I thought best suited for my trade and the results have been most gratifying. At first they made only clear Havana cigars, but now they make domestic as well.

No dope or foreign substance is used as is the case with many cigars on the market, only pure tobacco which is skillfully blended with the leaf grown in the different sections of the island of Cuba.

The factory was inspected by a druggist from Rochester, N. Y., who had been selected by the stockholders to make a thorough investigation and he reported the factory to be clean and sanitary, the cigars healthy, and all the conditions right for making good clean cigars. In a Tampa-Cuba Cigar you get more value for your money than in any other.

BRIGHTLOOK HOSPITAL MEET

Treasurer's Annual Report Encouraging—Help Needed for Special Funds.

The annual meeting of the incorporators of Brightlook Hospital was held at the First National Bank Thursday evening, Jan. 28. At this meeting the following trustees were re-elected for a term of three years: Theron M. Howard, Dr. W. J. Aldrich, Frank H. Brooks.

The incorporators elected the following as officers for the coming year: Frank H. Brooks, president; Dr. Edward H. Ross, vice-president; John F. Puffer, secretary and treasurer.

The treasurer's report showed a good working balance on the right side, and the superintendent's report dealt with the very encouraging situation at the hospital as regards its successful management and the care of the patients during the past year. Over 500 patients have received treatment at the hospital during the past year.

The year has been a notable one in that the Nurses' Home has been presented to the hospital through the generosity of Mrs. Rebecca Fairbanks, the central heating plant as having been made possible through the bequest left the hospital by Harvlin Paddock, Esq., and the equipment which has been installed in connection with the Nurses' Home or to be installed as full electrical equipment for the hospital.

While the year resulted in a very favorable showing of the hospital in many ways, the officers of the institution desire at this time to call the attention of the public to certain matters. The trustees have established a permanent fund, the income of which will be used for the general purposes of the hospital, having invested $500 as the beginning of this fund. In calling attention to this fund, the officers desire to have all persons desirous of helping on the institutional life of St. Johnsbury to have this fund in mind.

There has also been added to the memorial free bed fund out of certain surplus funds of the hospital $500. This is not only to encourage the ladies in their efforts to get this fund up to the $5,000 amount, but have the public realize that it is essential to have the free bed fund largely in excess of $5,000. Only in this way can those deserving of aid receive the help that the officers believe the citizens of St. Johnsbury desire to extend to those in unfortunate circumstances because of illness or otherwise.

The need of the hospital also requires another operating room. So great has been the increase in the demands made upon the present operating room that it is highly desirable to have another operating room with added equipment to enable all cases to be promptly treated at all times and under the best conditions. Someone desirous of donating the hospital with $10,000 could establish a second operating room that would be a lasting memorial of great benefit to the people of this Northeastern Vermont.

The officers also desire to call the attention of the public to the further need of a maternity ward and also a contagious ward. The needs in this direction are so apparent that it is unnecessary to dwell upon this statement longer than to greatly emphasize the importance of these two departments that the hospital still lacks.

During the year, a notable addition to the equipment of the hospital has been made through the generous offer of Dr. W. B. Fitch to install an X-Ray equipment, which is second to none in the state. The hospital is now splendidly equipped in this direction and through the installation of this equipment there has also been added the dark room for the use of patients requiring attention and operations in connection with the eye, ear and throat.

Other gifts to the hospital are: The hand of Eliza May, a portion of the estate of Carrie A. Tisdale, a fund of $1,531.38 the income from which is to be divided equally between the St. Johnsbury Hospital and Brightlook and used for the care of the needy and deserving poor. From the estate of Mrs. Z. A. Richardson a fund of $1,100 and income from which is to be used for the upkeep of the Richardson room endowed in memory of her husband and any unexpended balance for the general purposes of the hospital. From Mrs. W. A. Wells the sum of $500.

At this meeting the were committees appointed to arrange for the placing in the corridors of the Nurses' Home and hospital tablets stating the donors who have made possible the erection of the two fine buildings that now adorn Hospital Hill, and have also made possible the splendid equipment that the hospital possesses. Another committee was appointed to present before a meeting of the incorporators soon to be called, a list of names of persons who will succeed those incorporators who have either died or resigned.

The incorporators and trustees desire in this public way to express their great appreciation of the very efficient service rendered the hospital by Mrs. Lovejoy, superintendent, and Miss Miller as head nurse. The results accomplished at the hospital are the best recommendation that can be given these two persons who have done so much. In addition to this the trustees beg to thank the public for their generous co-operation in countless ways, and to state that a continuation of this hearty co-operation is not only needed but suggestions for the increased service of the hospital will be welcomed on the part of the management.

M. J. Seligman, who was arrested on suspicion of having started the recent fire in his tailor shop, was released from custody in the municipal court last Friday.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Amiot-Prevost
On Wednesday morning at Notre Dame church, Miss M. Bernadette, oldest daughter of Dr. C. A. Prevost, was married to R. Gustave Amiot of Montreal. The wedding was one of the most elaborate ever performed at Notre Dame church and was witnessed by a large assembly of people. The sanctuary was elaborately decorated with palms, cut flowers and candles and the beautiful church with its many electric lights never presented a more brilliant scene. Nuptial high mass was sung by Rev. Eugene C. Drouhin, assisted by Father Carrières as deacon and Father Remaudin as sub-deacon. Rev. J. W. Dwyer, Rev. C. L. Pontbriand of Lyndonville and Rev. L. Marceau of Barton were also in the sanctuary. The wedding march was played by Mrs. William Nagel and an orchestra assisted in the rendering of the mass of D'Angels, which was sung by a boy choir of 40 voices. The offertory solo was by Dr. J. D. Bachand. The bride wore yellow champagne trimmed with venetian lace, a hat of royal blue velvet, trimmed with mink and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses. She was attended by her father and her groom by his uncle, Achille Bissonnette of Montreal. A reception and wedding breakfast at the bride's home followed the service and was enjoyed by about 30 relatives. Those who served at the breakfast were the bride's sisters, Misses Germaine and Marie Prevost, and her cousins, Misses Romaine and Rachel Prevost and Germaine Grenier. Mr. and Mrs. Amiot left that afternoon for a wedding trip to Boston, Atlantic City, New York and Washington and on their return will reside in Montreal where Mr. Amiot is chief clerk to the assistant general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific railroad. The bride's going-away suit was of royal blue velvet with a cerise hat. The bride attended the convent here and later graduated from Villa Marie convent in Montreal. She is an accomplished pianist and has many friends among the young set of her city.

Among the out-of-town guests were the groom's mother, Mrs. Amiot, Mrs. Emil Hibbard, Mrs. F. X. Lessard and Miss Lea Bissonnette of Montreal.

Smith-Ripley

Dr. Robert Holbrook Smith of Akron, Ohio, and Miss Anne Robinson Ripley, daughter of Mrs. Joseph O. Ripley of Oak Park, Ill., were married on Monday evening, Jan. 25, at the bride's home. The house was decorated with Killarney and American beauty roses and pussy willows for the ceremony which was witnessed by about 125 guests. The groom was attended by Charles Trecoth Ripley, brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss Clara Ripley of Dorchester, Mass. The bride's gown was of white chiffon velvet made with full train. The collar was of point lace and the bride's bouquet was of Easter lilies. Miss Ripley, the bridesmaid, wore coral satin with silver trimmings and carried a bouquet of Russell roses. The dining room was done in green and white. Dr. and Mrs. Smith went the next day to Akron where they will begin housekeeping at once. Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Wellesley College and since her graduation has taught at Oak Park. Dr. Smith is the only son of Judge and Mrs. Walter P. Smith of St. Johnsbury, is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Rush Medical College of Chicago and has a host of St. Johnsbury friends to extend congratulations.

STRUCK ON CROSSING

R. M. Robertson Badly Injured at East Barnet.

R. M. Robertson, a teamster employed by Horace Varden of East Barnet, is at Brightlook Hospital where he was taken Saturday in a serious condition, resulting from an accident that afternoon. No bones were broken but there was an abdominal hemorrhage for which Drs. Allen and Fitch performed an operation and he is now doing well and will recover unless new complications arise.

He was hauling logs to Roy Bros. at East Barnet and was taking home a load of lumber. As he started to cross the track another double team was in front of him. He did not see the Air Line from the south coming and drove on the track directly in front of it. His horses got across safely but the engine struck his sled, scattering the lumber in all directions and throwing Mr. Robertson on the sidetrack a few feet away. The horses were stopped by the other team and Robertson was brought to St. Johnsbury on the train which struck him. He is 50 years old and unmarried, his relatives living in Sherbrooke.

A TALE OF INTEREST

The man who tried cheap coal thinking that it would prove economical awoke to the fact that cheap coal burns quicker, gives less heat and entails considerably more work and no end of worry.

The cheapest coal is OURS because it is of the highest quality—it isn't sold at a ridiculously low price but at honest figures and it gives the greatest amount of heat for the money.

talk on "The Habits of Wild Birds" by Herbert K. Job, state ornithologist of Connecticut and lecturer for the National Association of Audubon Societies. Mr. Job was introduced by Charles H. Horton, who spoke of the growing popular interest in out-of-door life and the wide knowledge the lecturer had gained from years of personal field study and work with the camera.

Photographing wild birds requires much skill and the patience of a Job. A hundred colored slides were shown, giving fascinating glimpses of the nesting, feeding and flight of a variety of land birds, birds of prey and water birds. Mr. Job secured very close views and long series of pictures of his bird friends by the use of an "observation blind" consisting of an ordinary umbrella opened inside of a dark bag large enough to conceal the observer.

The home life of our common warblers, the black and white, chestnut-sided, black-throated green and red start were graphically pictured. The introduction of the starling into New York was referred to. Although it has a beautiful song and destroys some injurious insects, it is multiplying so rapidly as to be regarded as a pest.

Interesting allusions were made to the modern projects of applied ornithology, especially to duck breeding and pheasant breeding. The wood duck is now protected by law in suitable places where this favorite and beautiful bird is induced to breed on private estates, the young being protected, return to their original home to nest and thus are multiplying rapidly. In one place a single pair of wood duck has increased to 70 in two seasons.

The closing series of pictures showed some of the federal bird reservations where water fowl, gulls, royal tern, skimmers and egrets are protected from enemies and allowed to multiply naturally.

The friendly spirit and humor of the lecturer appealed to everyone and the children present were greatly pleased by the realistic descriptions and graphic pictures of the mothers and fathers and children of birds to whom they were introduced.
